15 GERMAN AIRSHIPS, IN RAID ON SOUTHEASTERN ENGLAND, KILL 76 AND INJURE 174 PERSONS

Teuton Airplanes Drop Many Bombs and Cause Great Loss of Life Especially Among Women and Children of One Town, Not Named in Official Report; English Flying Corps Pursues Raiders and Brings Down Three Machines.

SECOND RAID ON ENGLAND WITHIN THREE DAYS

By Associated Press.

LONDON, May 26.—German airships to the number of 15 aided Southeast England on Friday evening, according to an official statement.

Seventy-six persons were killed. One hundred and seventy-four persons were injured.

Three of the German airships were shot down.

The raiding aircraft which were brought down were airplanes. Nearly all the damage occurred in one town, where some bombs fell in the streets, causing considerable damage among the civilian population. The following report on the air raid was made by Field Marshal Viscount French:

"A large squadron of enemy aircraft, about 15, attacked Southeast England between 5.15 and 6.30 o'clock last evening. Bombs were dropped at a number of places but nearly all the damage occurred in one town, where some bombs fell in the streets. Some shops and houses also were seriously damaged.

"The total casualties reported by the police from all districts are: Killed, 76; injured, 174. Of the killed 27 were women and 23 were children; while 45 women and 19 children were injured.

"Airplanes of the royal flying corps went in pursuit and the raiding aircrafts were engaged by fighting squadrons of the royal naval air service from Dunkirk on their return journey. The admiralty reports that three enemy airplanes were shot down by the latter."

This is the second German air raid on England within three days. On Wednesday night four or five German aircraft flew over the eastern English counties and dropped a number of bombs, killing one man. For six previous months no attack on England had been made from the air following two disastrous raids in which three Zeppelins were destroyed.

100,000 NEEDED TO FILL ARMY; RECRUITING SLACK

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Army recruiting was still at low ebb yesterday, only 1,251 men having been obtained throughout the country. New York led with 188. The number of enlistments required to fill the army to war strength was reduced to slightly less than 100,000.

GERMANS KNEW MOVEMENTS OF AMERICAN DESTROYERS

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Official investigation was under way today to uncover whether the leak on the sailing of American destroyers to the war zone was on this side of the Atlantic or whether German spies got it in England.

Admiral Sims has reported that the German admiralty knew of the departure of the ships and their port of arrival four days ahead of the time and had opportunity to mine their path.

LAD ENLISTS BUT IS CALLED BACK BY FATHER

The plans of Robert C. Hooper, son of T. J. Hooper, to "help Uncle Sam" by joining the army, were spoiled when his father called Corporal H. E. Fellows, recruiting officer at Uniontown, yesterday afternoon, and forbade him to accept the boy since he was only 16 years old. Young Hooper had already been accepted, since he had passed a splendid physical examination and had told the officer that he was 18 years and 11 months old. A rule is now in force not to accept recruits under 18, and so Corporal Fellows, immediately after Mr. Hooper's call, cancelled the boy's enlistment and sent him back home.

Hooper was ready to leave on the 5 o'clock train for Pittsburg, having accepted transportation to the district recruiting office there. He had come to Uniontown early in the afternoon, first telling a relation not to worry that he was off to help Uncle Sam.

BAND STAYS AT HOME

Musicians Decline Attractive Offer For Memorial Day.

Preferring to adhere to their custom of playing at home on Memorial Day, the Connellsville Military Band has declined an attractive offer to participate in the exercises of that day at Morgantown.

The band was asked to bring 30 pieces, leader and vocalist, or 32 in all, and to head the parade which will be lead by the employes of the United States Window Glass Company of Morgantown. Negotiations between Joseph L. Keener of the glass company and the band, were conducted by M. G. Bufano, son of P. Bufano, of this city, now an attorney in Morgantown.

The band will open the sacred concert season at Oakford Park on Sunday, June 3.

RED CROSS CHAPTER TO MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. W. O. Schoonover returned this morning from Washington City whither she had gone as a representative of the Connellsville chapter of the Red Cross at the meeting of the war council of this organization.

The purpose of this gathering was to plan for the celebration of Red Cross Week, June 18-25, and to outline a plan for a country-wide campaign to raise a fund of $100,000,000 for the use of the Red Cross in the war.

A meeting of the membership body of the local chapter has been called by Dr. Katharine Wakefield, president, to be held in the assembly room of the Carnegie Free Library on Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock, at which time Mrs. Schoonover will make a report of the meeting in Washington. The latter was of such importance that it is deemed advisable every member should be present on Tuesday evening.

All "Heavy Stuff" is Absolutely Prohibited Under New Decision.

FIRST ORDER IS MODIFIED

Decision was made last night by a committee consisting of Mayor R. Marletta, Councilman M. B. Pryce and City Clerk V. O. Bixler, as to what fireworks may be used on this Fourth of July. All "heavy stuff" was strictly prohibited, but because the Tri-State Candy Company, local wholesalers, had already bought a big stock of fireworks, the first order of the mayor was modified to allow the shooting of firecrackers and other small goods.

The list of fireworks prohibited follows: Roman candles, sky-rockets, bombs, triandles and vertical wheels, large night mines, and similar fireworks. These things are permitted to be sold and fired in the city: Firecrackers, toy torpedoes, sparklers, boa constrictors snake in bag, penny novelties, and five and ten cent novelties.

Dealers represented at the meeting were the Tri-State Candy Company and J. A. Cypher. W. S. Yard had sent a letter to the committee. Samples of the fireworks which the dealers proposed to sell were submitted.

Nothing was said at the meeting about the time limit for the shooting of fireworks this year, but it is understood that the mayor, in a proclamation to be issued later, will fix the 24 hours of Independence Day as the only time when fireworks may be used.

STEEL MILL START MAY BE DELAYED UNTIL SEPTEMBER

Fear Lack of Material Will Set Back Beginning of Operations Until Fall.

A possible delay in starting operations at the new mill of the United States Electric Steel company, when officials indicated that the first of September might be the time for opening the plant. Work is progressing nicely and Robert Lock, president of the company, still hopes to begin operations by the middle of July. Because of delay in receiving some of the material, however, others interested feel that the start will be much later.

Work on the roof of the mill is again under way, after having been halted for several days by high winds. Work on the furnace is also coming along.

CITY TO HONOR YOUNG MEN WHO ENROLL JUNE 5

Celebration to Last Practically All Afternoon, According to Present Plans.

PARADE AND FLAG RAISING

"Old Glory" to be Unfurled From Mast On City Hall Lawn; Present Plan Calls for Singing and Speechmaking at All Registration Places.

Connellsville is to have a big patriotic demonstration on June 5, conscription registration day, to celebrate the calling of the young men into their country's service. The feature of the celebration is to be the raising of a flag on the 80 foot flag pole to be erected on the city hall lawn. An automobile parade will also be held, the route to cover each of the polling places. Plans for the celebration were gotten under way at a meeting held at 4.30 yesterday afternoon in W. P. Clark's office.

There will be bands and singing, speaking and flag waving, all to show, as Captain E. Dunn says, "that the entire community is behind the young men called to the colors." The plan is to make the day a real holiday. The occasion, Captain Dunn declares, is enormous in significance, and its observance shall be well planned for and carried out.

Just when to have the celebration caused the most discussion. It was shifted from forenoon to afternoon, and today people are suggesting that the municipal flag raising should be held early in the evening so that all might attend. Captain Dunn's plans to have singing and speaking at each polling place, though passed upon yesterday afternoon, are likely to be dropped. It seems, the parade merely following the line of the seven registration booths, without stopping for a program. The speaking would thus be concentrated at the flag raising. The programs at the polls would confuse the registrars, it is said, in their work. The city, with its flag raising, is joining in with Captain Dunn's celebration that it may not be strung out over two days.

The plans as formulated at the meeting in W. P. Clark's office, call

Kurtz Post No. 101 of the Grand Army of the Republic, signed by William P. Clark, commander, and Charles H. Whiteley, adjutant. Suspension of business and postponement of games for the day are urged. The communication reads:

"Memory quickens as we think of the approach of Memorial Day, Wednesday, May 30. We recall many comrades who marched to the music of the union, but who have passed over the Great Divide. Let us gather about their passionless graves, strew them with the freshest flowers of Spring and place above them the flag they loved and for which they gave their strength, their service, and yielded up their lives, willing sacrifices for national unity.

"The day is sacred to the Grand Army of the Republic and should be so treated by all who now enjoy the blessings and benefits of their heroic service and sacrifices. Let us invite all who love their country to take part in their tribute to our dead, especially the children who will be impressed by this object lesson in patriotism.

"Let us urge the suspension of business, the postponement of games on that day, so that the day may be kept sacred to those 'who gave the last full measure of devotion' to the land they loved.

"Sunday, May 27, is the Memorial sabbath of our order, and should be solemnly observed by all our comrades, in a house of worship with proper service. This post has accepted an invitation to attend the United Brethren church, on Lincoln avenue, Rev. J. S. Showers, pastor. The Sons of Veterans, the Ladies' Circle, G. A. Only One Day and That is June 5; Absentees Must Mail Enrollment Cards.

JAIL FOR THE "SLACKERS"

Emphasis Laid On Fact That Imprisonment, Not Fine' is Punishment for Those Who Evade This Patriotic Duty; Enrollment is Not Draft.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—In its campaign to stimulate interest and registration June 5 for the war army, the War Department today issued a memorandum emphasizing the seven cardinal points to be remembered particularly by the men between the ages of 21 and 30, inclusive, who will be required to register. It follows:

1.—There is only one day for registration, June 5, 1917.

2.—Every male resident of the United States who has reached his 21st and has not reached his 31st birthday must register on the day set, June 5, 1917. The only exceptions are persons in the military or naval service of the United States which includes all officers and enlisted men of the regular army, the regular army reserve, the officers' reserve corps, the enlisted reserve corps, the national guard and national guard reserve, recognized by the militia bureau of the War Department, the navy, the marine corps, the coast guard, and the naval militia, the naval reserve force and naval volunteers, recognized by the Navy Department.

3.—Registration is distinct from draft. No matter what just claim you have for exemption you must register.

4.—Registration is a public duty. For those not responsive to the sense of duty, the penalty of imprisonment, not fine, is provided in the draft act.

5.—Those through sickness who shall be unable to register should cause a representative to apply to the county or city clerk for a copy of the registration card. The clerk will give instructions as to how this card should be filled out. The card should then be mailed by the sick persons or delivered by his agent to the registrar of his own district. The sick person will enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for the return to him of his registration certificate.

6.—Any person who expects to be absent from his voting precinct on registration day should apply as soon as practicable for a registration card to the county clerk of the county in which he may be stopping or if he is in a city of over 30,000 to the city clerk. The clerk will record the answers on the card and turn it over to the absentees. The absentees should mail this card to the registrar of his home district so that it will reach that official by registration day. A self-addressed stamped envelope should be enclosed by the absentee to insure return to him of his registration certificate.

7.—Registration booths will be open from 7 A. M. to 9 P. M., on registration day, June 5, 1917.

The program closed with the Mizpah benediction. A sum of $46 was realized from sacrifice bags turned in by class members. The attractive decorations which were carried out in the class colors, yellow and white, were in charge of Miss Ratie Storey. Mrs. D. D. Brooks had charge of the tables.

The municipal parking place on West Apple street and Orchard alley is ready for use. The regular Saturday night rush of automobiles, regularly parked along both sides of Apple street, are expected to be turned into the lot tonight.

Signs urging automobilists to use the parking place have been printed and will be placed along the streets upon which cars generally stop. Smith Newcomer, caretaker, was sworn in this morning by City Clerk A. O. Dixler as a special officer.

The lot has been nicely cleaned up. A large entrance has been provided on Meadow lane, near Apple street, and an exit further down the lane. City officials are doing everything possible to popularize the lot.

PLASTERING BEGUN

Fulfilling a promise made representatives of the Trades & Labor Council at a recent school board meeting, the contract was let to union workmen. The men working on the building and all the plasterers under Contractor Alms will receive an increase in wages from $5 to $5.50 a day on June 1.

The plasterers are: G. M. Thomas, G. S. Yowler, George Bortree, Springer Jeffries, Charles Deselms, John Humbert, Clyde Alma, Jay Noble, Thomas Ross, and Joseph Bingham, all of Uniontown.

GUTHRIE RAISES FLAG

Movie Taken of Ambassador to Japan Day Before He Died.

The late George W. Guthrie, United States ambassador at Japan, and former mayor of Pittsburg, did much to further the spirit of cordial feeling between this country and Japan. A motion picture has just reached the United States in which Mr. Guthrie is shown raising an American flag over the office of the Pacific Mail Steamship company at Yokohoma. He died on the following day.

The picture is typical of Ambassador Guthrie and is a fitting commentary upon the life of this true American who died serving his own nation in a foreign land. This, together with several remarkable pictures of Yokohoma, is now being shown in the International Weekly, released by Pathe and shown at the Paramount here.

I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, got a box and began taking them. They relieved me at once. This was a few months ago and I haven't had any trouble since."

WILL HONOR BOTH.

It as but natural that the suggestion to make the municipal flag raising a patriotic celebration should come from that body of men who, more than any others of our citizenry, know what significance there is attached to every honor paid the flag in these days. Having followed it through the four years in which the integrity of our nation was assailed by a brave, brilliant and dashing foe, the veterans of the Civil War, whom time has kindly spared to inspire a new generation of boys to go forth in their country's defense, appreciate perhaps more than do other citizens the desirability, if not also the necessity at this time, of having our people as a body take more than an idle or curious interest in the ceremony of spreading the Star Spangled Banner to the breeze.

The men who took part in what has until the present war been the greatest conflict in our history, have a comprehending sense of what the days that are ahead may have in store for us. They realize how vitally necessary it is that our people arouse themselves to the seriousness of the situation. They also know that the country at large has not awakened to the fact that the very existence of the nation for which they made sacrifices is again threatened. They also know that the thoughtless, careless and indifferent have not yet contemplated the bigness of the task that America will have to perform. To the veterans, as it ought also to be to all others, the time for argument is past. We are face to face with a war that was forced upon us and we must now prepare ourselves to meet it unflinchingly.

To bestir the apathetic to a quickened sense of their obligations and duties; to move them to action that will enlist their interest in the various agencies which are engaged in the all-important work of preparation, the veterans of the Civil War, out of an abundant experience know that a public patriotic demonstration is a most useful agency.

In the present instance it will serve the no less praiseworthy purpose of giving a new meaning to what has always been esteemed a more or less unpopular exercise of governmental authority. It is at present planned to hold the celebration on Registration Day, June 5, when the young men of the land whose ages make them subject to selective conscription will be signifying their willingness to serve whenever called. Registration is a patriotic duty and those who perform it are deserving of recognition. The exercises of flag-raising day will be entirely appropriate to such an occasion and will show that the whole community regards the act of registering as commendable and worthy to be given more than mere passing notice.

Having been conceived and planned by the veterans the proposed celebration will fittingly honor both those who have protected and those who are willing to protect the starry banner we are privileged to speak of as Your Flag and My Flag.

THE PRESS DICTATORSHIP.

The Administration and those members of Congress who favor a censorship of the press are having a hard time convincing the American reading public that it should be applied in this country. Moreover, the setting up of a dictatorship of any sort acts as a challenge to all Americans because of their inherent dislike to dictators of any and every kind. Just now we are preparing to protest with all our strength and resources against the most arrogant dictator of them all—one who is not content to dictate to the people of his own country alone, but who has been presumptuous enough to fence off the ocean and lay down arbitrary rules for the regulation of commerce between all the nations of the earth. This protest has not yet consumed so much of the energy of the American people that they are willing, even under the exigencies of war, to submit to a dictatorship in Washington that will so delete the news that the newspapers will not be able to give information upon the progress of the war.

"If a censorship law were enforced against all papers equally," says Johnathan Bourne, president of the Republican Publicity association, "it would work no special hardship upon any. They would suffer no injury different from that suffered by all the American people. In fact, a newspaper man's work would be lessened if he were content to take only such matter as a censor's office chose to give.

"But neither the American people nor the editors can or should be satisfied with any such limited and unfair presentation of news regarding public business. It is quite possible that public officials are sometimes subjected to unfair treatment in publication of news, but it is absolutely certain that if the Administration had power to control news sources, facts given publicity would be immensely more unfair in favor of public officials than they are now unfair against them.

"The sum and substance of the attitude of the press is that editors are against dictatorship, whether that dictatorship affects their own business or any other business. Newspapers are against food dictators, transportation dictators and political dictators. Absolute freedom of the press is the only safeguard today against the establishment of all sorts of dictatorship.

"Editors believe in government by law. They are willing to be responsible under libel laws. They believe in laws regulating transportation, hoarding of food, banking, and numerous other important lines of enterprise. But neither the editors nor any considerable number of other people believe in establishing dictatorships by delegating to administrative officers the discretionary power to make rules prescribing from day to day what the American people may or may not read."

Whatever else you may have done you still fall short of having done your full patriotic duty if you have not planted a garden, joined the Red Cross and bought a Liberty Bond.

Just a Foretaste.

Fairmont West Virginian.

Mr. McAdoo's proposal to raise $2,246,000,000 by taxation takes the breath of the country, but it is merely a hint of what we would have to accept as the regular thing if we do not now throw ourselves into this war heart and soul and put down militarism for good and all.

The Government Negligent.

Scottdale Observer.

The government has been negligent of the interests of the people on the food question. Conditions have favored the cultures who make a business of preying upon the public, and they have amassed fortunes while the people's representatives complacently looked on.

Only War Talk.

Rippling Rhymes

POSSIBILITIES.

It may be we won't use the gun to shoot the sawdust from the Hun. It may be that there will be peace, that all the rioting will cease, before we get ourselves in shape to festoon Germany with crepe. For this unmounted people hope, though unsupported by the dope, which indicates a long, long war are Kaiser Bill's accounted for. And though we may not seek the field, all loaded down with sword and shield, we have a mighty task to do—to send the allies things to chew. They'll look to us for corn and wheat, for hams and yams and bread and meat. 'Tis ours to load our ships with grain, and send them o'er the raging main; and every time we send a boat, we get another German goat. So let us get back to the land, and raise string beans to beat the band. And every time we raise a hill, we take a fall from Kaiser Bill. The towns are full of idle gents who cannot fight worth twenty cents, who shake and sweat at war's alarms—they should be drafted for the farms. The loafer who sidesteps the fun must do his bit with plow or hoe.

Resolutions of Respect.

Minutes adopted by the Bar Association of Fayette County, Pennsylvania, May 26, 1917, in memory of Honorable Allen F. Cooper.

Allen Foster Cooper was born in Franklin township, Fayette county, Pennsylvania, June 16, 1852, and died suddenly at his home in Uniontown, April 20, 1917. He was a son of Joel and Eliza Jane Cooper, substantial, God fearing people, and his early life was that usual with the country boy, working on the farm during the summer and attending the public schools in the winter. Of a sturdy constitution and with such environments he early gave evidence of those qualities of mind and heart that characterized his subsequent life.

After completing the public school course he attended the Southwestern Normal School at California, Pa., graduating with the class of 1882. While at the Normal he was prominent in all the activities of the college life, taking an especial interest in the work of the literary societies, being a member of the Philo Society, and in later years, when he occupied a commanding position in the business and political worlds, he was ever loyal to his alma mater. Following his graduation at the Normal, Mr. Cooper attended Mount Union College for a year, but did not graduate. Later he taught school several terms, taking post graduate work in the normal schools at California and Lock Haven. As a teacher, he was a marked success, apt and convincing as an instructor, and exacting as a disciplinarian.

But a restless, ambitous spirit, such as Mr. Cooper's, was not to be hedged about by the narrow limitations of the life of a country school teacher, so he embarked in the wider field of the legal profession. He registered as a law student with the late Colonel A. D. Boyd, and entered the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, where he graduated in 1888, being admitted to the Fayette County Bar the following December. January 1, 1889, Mr. Cooper formed a law partnership with J. Q. Van Swearingen, his classmate at Ann Arbor, under the firm name of Cooper & Van Swearingen. The new firm soon acquired a large practice in both state and Federal courts, including also the Supreme Court of the United States, and became one of the leading law firms of the county, indeed in Western Pennsylvania. The firm continued until Judge Van Swearingen's election to the Common Pleas bench of Fayette County in 1907.

In 1902 Mr. Cooper was elected a representative in Congress from the twenty-third Pennsylvania district. He was re-elected the succeeding three terms, serving the district for eight years, a longer period than anyone else in the district for the past fifty years or more. As a congressman, he was industrious, earnest and efficient; ever watchful of the interests of his constituents, without regard to position or party affiliation. He was especially interested in matters pertaining to the old soldiers. They seemed his special wards, and many a veteran, or his widow, was indebted to Mr. Cooper for a pension, or other substantial favor. Broad measures and policies for a national development commensurate with our wonderful resources always received his advocacy and support. As a member of several of the most important committees of the House, he did much to promote and enact legislation along sound business and economic, as well as broad humanitarian, lines. In 1916 he declined a renomination and voluntarily returned to private life.

Besides his professional life and public duties, Mr. Cooper was closely identified with the business activities of the community. He was active in the sale and development of the great mineral resources of our own and neighboring counties, and his industry and foresight were rewarded by the acquisition of large property interests. As President of the Fayette Publishing Company, directing the publication of The Morning Herald and The Evening Clarion, he exerted a wide influence upon the community.

When the great financial crisis came to our community two years ago, Mr. Cooper took a leading part in the efforts that were put forth to avert the disaster. At meetings of the Bar Association; as a member of the Creditors' Committee; in visiting distant cities and endeavoring to interest individuals and corporations in the work of the committee—he gave unselfishly and freely of his time and means "in a general honest thought and common good to all."

Occupying a high place in his chosen professions; a leading citizen of the city; closely identified with the business interests of the county; honored by political preferment; a successful editor and publisher; wielding a wide and beneficient influence throughout the western part of the state, Mr. Cooper filled a large place in the community. He was the personification of honor and integrity, a man of high ideals, and public spirited. Of strong convictions and untiring energy his life was not one of stagnation and calm. He was ever found in the front lines of the struggle. Such a life is not a mere chance or whim of fate. The qualities he possessed could result only in success and usefulness.

And in this new era of our national life when we seem to be breaking away from the old moorings, and men are confused and uncertain as to the future, Mr. Cooper, in the prime of his manhood, rich in experience, ripe in wisdom, unselfish in devotion, will be sorely missed. Simple in taste, unassuming in manner, conscious of a life well spent, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, the end came. In the words of another: "When the mildest herald by our fate allotted touched him with sudden dart, it found him unwarned, but not unprepared, and he fell at the moment of highest achievement and in full possession of his unequaled powers. His life work had been done and was complete." And might he not have truly said on that beautiful April evening:

"Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark,
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark.

For though from out our bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my pilot face to face,
When I have crossed the bar."

The Bench and Bar of Fayette county give this expression of their admiration for Mr. Cooper's life and character; of pride in his splendid career; of sorrow and personal loss in his untimely death. To the loved wife and dear friends we extend sympathy, love and the blessed assurance of an abiding hope. His memory will long be our rich heritage.

Senreco

The double-service tooth paste, keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—25 cents for a large 2 ounce tube.

AN INTERESTING PROGRAM

Every Adult, Especially the Firemen, Urged to Strain Every Effort to See That Nothing Happens to the Little Folks; Another Meeting Friday.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTDALE, May 26.—All Flag Day committees held a meeting last evening and every man present was very enthusiastic and anxious that June 14 be a red letter day for Scottdale. Five bands have offered their services and been accepted. A letter was read from Captain Robert Morton of Connellsville stating that he would have Company D in Scottdale to take part in the parade. Captain James Zundell of Company E, Tenth Regiment, virtually accepted an invitation for his command to participate. Company E will not have a meeting until Sunday but it is thought the men will be more than willing to come. A committee appointed to wait on Colonel Richard Coulter reported he had a previous engagement for June 14 but should he not keep it he will be glad to have the Tenth Regiment band come and be present himself.

J. E. Tinstman and Harry Parker were appointed a committee to visit the various industries and places of business and see how much of a holiday they will be willing to give the employes for the occasion. Walter L. Schaeffer, secretary of the meeting, with the chairman, Mr. Hill, were made a committee to see the various organizations about turning out. Already several Polish and Italian organizations have accepted the invitation to take part in the parade. The committee will buy "Liberty" hats for the school children taking part.

A committee was appointed to wait on Major R. S. McKee of Connellsville regarding the coming of the hospital corps.

Frank Hardy was very much enthused over the plans and made a very patriotic address. The committee is working on the line of parade which is a very short one. The public safety committee of which Walter Schaeffer, Dr. M. A. Noon, Walter Haines and Frank McCudden are the members, have appointed each adult in town and each fireman in particular a committee to look after the safety and protection of the school children. The committee thinks that the protection of these school children is a very important matter and will be careful that no harm comes to them.

The decoration committee, composed of Thomas Rutherford, Joe Steiner, Benjamin Miller, Frank McCudden, Harry Wright, Lee Goldenson and George M. Ferguson, expects all persons to decorate. The parade will form at 1 P. M. and at 3 o'clock, Lieutenant Governor Frank B. McClain of Harrisburg will speak at Loucks Park and the flag service will be held. Another meeting of the committees will be held on Friday night, June 1.

Elks to Parade.

The local order of Elks have accepted the invitation to march with the G. A. R. on Memorial Day and several of the members have offered the use of their cars to the veterans and will provide other cars if there are not enough.

for an entire afternoon of celebration, if things are delayed at places, as they usually are in a case of this sort, the parade may not disband until 7 o'clock or even later in the evening. People ought to be willing to make such a small sacrifice as having one late meal, Captain Dunn declared, in these times of stress and sacrifice.

At 1 o'clock the ceremonies attendant upon the flag raising will begin. Automobilists will, meanwhile, have gathered on Apple, Arch, Water streets, Orchard alley, and other thoroughfares near the city hall lawn, in cars decorated with the flags of America and her Allies. A committee from council will likely make up the program for the flag raising exercises.

Immediately upon their conclusion, the automobile procession will move to the First Ward polling place, where men will be registering for the draft, then to the Second Ward to the Third, and so on, in regular order, through all seven wards of the city.

The formation of the parade will likely be in this order: Mayor and city council, ministers, bands and singers, G. A. R. members and Boy Scouts, and the people, all in decorated cars.

A definite schedule will be arranged so that people in each ward will know when the procession is to arrive, and may assemble.

Attending the meeting were the Rev. J. T. Burns, Rev. J. L. Proudfit, Rev. C. C. Buckner, Rev. J. S. Showers, Rev. Wilbur Nelson, Rev. G. L. C. Richardson, W. P. Clark, F. E. Younkin, A. O. Bixler, S. P. Ashe, and Captain E. Dunn.

Rev. Proudfit and Mr. Ashe were appointed a committee on music, the former to get singers, the latter bands, for the parade. Rev. Proudfit will ask John Davis to organize a double male quartet for the occasion, and there will likely be women singers as well. Mr. Ashe will invite the Connellsville Military Band, the Kurtz drum corps and other musical organizations to play.

F. E. Younkin, Rev. Father Burns, A. O. Bixler, Rev. Showers and Rev. Nelson were appointed a committee on program. They will secure the speakers and arrange the schedule in general. Mr. Bixler suggested that this committee have booklet programs for the celebration printed at their own expense.

An automobile committee consisting of Rev. Buckner, Mr. Clark, and Captain Dunn was also appointed to cooperate with garage men and make appeal to all car owners to enter the parade. This committee will also arrange the line of march, the definite order of procession, and similar details.

No one is to receive pay for his services.

Mr. Bixler, representing the city, asked that the trip to the polls be abandoned, that all the program of speaking and singing be presented at the flag-raising, and that an automobile parade over the principal streets follow it. The other men felt however, that the element of sectional pride and loyalty would be gratified by the visits to the different wards, and were unwilling to drop the first program. Later Mr. Bixler seconded Mr. Younkin's motion calling for flag raising and ward ceremonies both. The city clerk said the committee might fix the hour for the flag raising. He was appointed to the program committee to represent council.

The Crown of Womanhood

"Uncared for hair cannot be beautiful. There is no part of the human makeup so revengeful as the hair. It cries out: Look at me, care for me, or I will disgrace you! Treat me with consideration and I will be a glory to you."

With the above words, Lillian Russell, an unquestioned authority on feminine attractiveness, places no uncertain value on nice hair as a beauty asset. Unkempt, uncared for hair not only cannot be attractive but is actually a disgrace.

But why have ill-kept, untidy hair? By devoting a few moments regularly to brushing and intelligent application of NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE, the hair may be made to yield wonderful returns in increased personal charm.

Dandruff is the direct cause of more hair trouble than anything else. The hair becomes thin, harsh, uneven and falls out in quantities. It looks dead and lifeless; there is no luster. The scalp itches.

HERPICIDE will remove the dandruff which is causing all the trouble, clean the scalp, give the hair life, snap and luxuriance. The hair stops coming out, the itching ceases almost at once and withal there is a most gratifying sense of cleanliness.

To the woman who wishes to make the most of nature's gifts by having fluffy, beautiful hair, NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE is a toilet necessity. It is exquisitely perfumed and is a delightful hair dressing.

In 50c and $1.00 sizes. At drug stores and toilet goods counters everywhere. Guaranteed by The Herpicide Co.

PETEY DINK—If He Can't Hit It One Way He Will Another. By C. A. Voight.

The Real Man

Starbuck, looking over the police-man's shoulder, could see Smith at the telephone in the garage office. Another man might have lost his head but the ex-cowpuncher was of the chosen few whose wits sharpen handily in an emergency.

"He hangs out at the Hopkin House a good part of the time in the evenings," he replied coolly. "Hop in and I'll drive you around."

Three minutes later the threatening danger was a danger pushed a little way into the future, and Starbuck was back at the garage curb waiting for Smith to come out. Through the window he saw Smith placing the revolver on its hook, and a moment afterward he was opening the car door for his passenger.

"Did you make out to raise the judge?" he inquired, as Smith climbed in.

"Yes. He will meet me at his chambers in the courthouse as soon as he can drive down from his house."

"What are your hoplas to do, John? Judge Warner is only a circuit judge; he can't set an order of the United States court aside, can he?"

"No; but there is one thing that he can do. You may remember that I had a talk with him this morning at his house. I was trying then to cover all the chances, among them the possibility that Stanton would jump in with a gang of armed thugs at the last minute. We are going to assume that this is what has been done."

Starbuck set the car in motion and sent it scurrying out of the side street, around the plaza and beyond to the less brilliantly illuminated residence district—which was not the shortest way to the courthouse.

"You mustn't pull Judge Warner's leg, John," he protested, breaking the purring silence after the business quarter had been left behind; "he's too good a man for that."

"I shall tell him the exact truth, so far as I know it," was the quick reply. "There is one chance in a thousand that we shall come out of this with the law—as well as the equities—on our side. I shall tell the judge that no papers have been served on us and, so far as I know, they haven't. What are you driving all the way around here for?"

"This is one of the times when the longest way round is the shortest way home," Starbuck explained. "The bad news you were looking for has come. While you were fooling in the garage I put one policeman wise—to nothing."

"He was looking for me?"

"Sure thing—and by name. We'll fool around here in the block streets until the judge has had time to show up. Then I'll drop you at the courthouse and go hustle the sheriff for you. You'll want Harding, I take it?"

"Yes. I'm taking the chance that only the city authorities have been notified in my personal affair—not the county officers. It's a long chance, of course; I may be running my neck squarely into the noose. But it's all risk, Billy; every move in this night's game. Head up for the courthouse. The judge will be there by this time."

Two minutes beyond this the car was drawing up to the curb on the near-by side of the courthouse square. There were two lighted windows in the second story of the otherwise darkened building, and Smith sprang to the sidewalk.

"Go now and fine Harding, and have him bring one trusty deputy with him; I'll be ready by the time you get back," he directed; but Starbuck waited until he had seen Smith safely lost in the shadows of the pillared courthouse entrance before he drove away

CHAPTER XXV.

A Race to the Swift.

Since Sheriff Harding had left his office in the county jail and had gone home to his ranch on the north side of the river some hours earlier, not a little precious time was consumed in hunting him up. Beyond this, there was another delay in securing the deputy. When Starbuck's car came to a stand for a second time before the near-fronting entrance of the courthouse, Smith came quickly across the walk from the portal.

"Mr. Harding," he began abruptly, "Judge Warner has gone home and he has made me his messenger. There is a bit of sharp work to be done, and you'll need a strong posse. Can you deputize fifteen or twenty good men who can be depended upon in a fight and rendezvous them on the north side river road in two hours from now?"

The sheriff, a big, bearded man who might have sat for the model of one of Frederic Remington's frontiersmen took time to consider. "Is it a scrap?" he asked.

"It is likely to be. There are warrants to be served, and there will most probably be resistance. Your posse should be well armed."

"We'll try for it," was the decision. "On the north side river road, you say? You'll want us mounted?"

"It will be better to take horses. We could get autos, but Judge Warner agrees with me that the thing had better be done quietly and without making too much of a stir in town."

"All right," said the man of the law. "Is that all?"

"No, not quite all. The first of the warrants is to be served here in Brewster—upon Mr. Crawford Stanton. Your deputy will probably find him at the Hopkin House. Here is the paper: it is a bench warrant of commitment on a charge of conspiracy, and Stanton is to be locked up. Also you are to see to it that your jail telephone is out of order, so that Stanton won't be able to make any attempt to get a hearing and bail before tomorrow."

"That part of it is mighty risky," said Harding. "Does the judge know about that, too?"

"He does; and for the ends of pure justice, he connives with me—though, of course, he couldn't give a mandatory order."

The sheriff turned to his jail deputy, who had descended from the rumble seat in the rear.

"You've heard the dope, Jimmie," he said shortly. "Go and get His Nobs and lock him up. And if he wants to be yelling 'Help!' and sending for his lawyer or somebody, why, the telephone's takin' a lay-off. Savvy?"

The deputy nodded and turned upon his heel, stuffing the warrant for Stanton's arrest into his pocket as he went. Smith swung up beside Starbuck, saying: "In a couple of hours, then, Mr. Harding; somewhere near the bridge approach on the other side of the river."

Starbuck had started the motor and was bending forward to adjust the oil feed when the sheriff left them.

"You seem to have made a ten-strike with Judge Warner," the ex-cowpuncher remarked, replacing the flash-lamp in its seat pocket.

"Judge Warner is a man in every inch of him; but there is something behind this night's work that I don't quite understand," was the quick reply. "I had hardly begun to state the case when the judge interrupted me, 'I know,' he said. 'I have been waiting for you people to come and ask for relief.' What do you make of that, Billy?"

"I don't know; unless someone in Stanton's outfit has welshed. Shaw might have done it. He has been to Bob Stillings, and Stillings says he is sore at Stanton for some reason. Shaw was trying to get Stillings to agree to drop the railroad case against him, and Bob says he made some vague promise of help in the High Line business if the railroad people would agree not to prosecute."

"There is a screw loose somewhere; I know by the way Judge Warner took hold. When I proposed to swear out the warrant for Stanton's arrest, he said, 'I can't understand, Mr. Smith, why you haven't done this before,' and he sat down and filled out the blank. But we can let that go for the present. How are you going to get me across the river without taking me through the heart of the town and giving the Brewster police a shy at me?"

Starbuck's answer was wordless. With a quick twist of the pilot wheel he sent the car skidding around the corner, using undue haste, as it seemed, since they had two hours before them. A few minutes farther along the lights of the town had been left behind and the car was speeding swiftly westward on a country road paralleling the railway track; the road over which Smith had twice driven with the kidnapped Jibboy.

"I'm still guessing," the passenger ventured, when the last of the railroad distance signals had flashed to the rear. And then: "What's the frantic hurry, Billy?"

Starbuck was running with the muffler cut out, but now he cut it in and the roar of the motor sank to a humming murmur.

"I thought so," he remarked, turning his head to listen. "You didn't notice that police whistle just as we were leaving the courthouse, did you? —nor the answers to it while we were dodging through the suburbs? Somebody has marked us down and passed the word, and now they're chasing us with a buzz-wagon. Don't you hear it?"

By this time Smith could hear the sputtering roar of the following car only too plainly.

"It's a big one," he commented. "You can't outrun it, Billy; and, besides, there is nowhere to run to in this direction."

'A DAUGHTER OF WAR"—Is a story of love and swords, the love of Captain Allen and Dorothy Burgett of the woods and glens of romantic Lake George, the swords of Captain Allen the brave and Captain Staunton the cruel. Love blooms and swords cross in the shady garden of old Burgett's country home. And from their counter-play springs a vivid tale of heroism. Also Tom Mix in 'A Roman Cowboy." a two reel Fox comedy. Monday, "Pride and the Devil," a five reel drama and "The Crimson Stain Mystery" No. 13.

Save Three Hours out of Every Four Your Horses Work by Using
Smith Form-a-Truck
F. O. B. Chicago

Every minute wasted on the road by slow, inefficient hauling and delivery costs you real money. Horses take from three to four times as long to cover the ground as it will take you when you install Smith Form-a-Trucks in your service.

Three to four miles an hour is the best horses can do with a ton load. Smith Form-a-Truck replaces the slow, time wasting walk of horses with a speed of from ten to fourteen miles an hour under every condition of work.

And it costs no more to buy a Smith Form-a-Truck than it does to buy a good pair of horses equal to the work of hauling a ton load. If your hauling or delivery requires all-day service every working day of the year, you must have at least two teams for every wagon.

The sturdy, efficient, untiring Smith Form-a-Truck never takes time out for rest, never has to lay off the job. It works steadily day in and day out, always maintaining its high speed, always moving its load quickly, easily, and at lower cost than any other form of service you can buy.

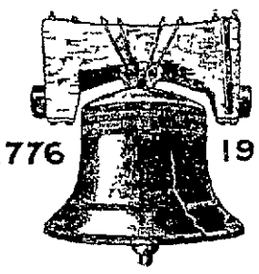

Records of service obtained from over 10,000 Smith Form-a-Truck users show a ton mile cost of less than 8 cents. And the first Smith Form-a-Truck ever sold has been in service four years, covered 20,000 miles and cost only $8 for repairs.

Get a Smith Form-a-Truck, attach it to any Ford, Dodge Bros., Overland, Buick, Chevrolet or Maxwell chassis and end your excessive hauling and delivery costs

Put your hauling problems up to us. It doesn't cost you a cent to learn just how much money we can put back into your pocket that you are now putting into horses.

Rallying to Their Country's Call

The President's "appeal to the people" is ringing in our ears and every true American heart responds: "Here am I. How can I serve?"

The answer is for every one to do the thing for which he or she is best fitted But ther is ONE WAY in which ALL can serve alike. Your country needs food, clothing, munitions, men, but always and above all—money—money to pay for needed supplies—money to build ships—money for soldiers and for their dependents.

Extravagance becomes a crime—thrift a virtue. Increase the working capital of the country by keeping every possible dollar in bank! Put it where it will be protected—where you will be paid interest—and where it will increase the purchasing power of the nation, its power to protect you.

Others are doing it!

Have YOU done what YOU can?

BIG SHOW COMING

Barnum & Bailey to Exhibit at Uniontown June 1.

Once again the glad tidings are being spread broadcast telling of the coming of Barnum & Bailey's circus. The greatest show on earth, it is announced, will positively be exhibited within easy traveling distance this season, and, as usual, a large percentage of the population will declare a holiday to visit the show.

The big circus will exhibit in Uniontown on June 1.

It is promised that nothing to compare with the present Barnum & Bailey performance has ever before been seen under canvas. New and novel features have been imported from abroad and a program of events, thrilling, educational and screamingly funny, will occupy every instant in three rings, four stages, the rigging above and the hippodrome surrounding for more than three hours.

There is a new and gorgeous pageant entitled, "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp" in which nearly 1,000 persons and one thousand animals appear in magnificent costumes, rivaling the dress of the people of the famous "Arabian Nights" story. This will be followed by a host of acts in all parts of the great enclosure. There will be sixty clowns, a greatly increased menagerie of wild and untamed animals, four great herds of elephants, several caravans of camels and many recently born baby animals.

The free street parade, which will start from the circus lot at 10 o'clock on the morning of circus day, is entirely different from anything of the kind ever shown before. It will be three miles in length and there will be bands on foot, on horseback, and riding on top of wagons of red and gold. There will be six bands in all and they will be assisted by three steam calliopes and an electric piano.

Five railroad trains comprising 80 railroad cars, will be required to transport its paraphernalia and more than 750 horses will be used to transfer its wagons from the railroad yards to the show lot.
